About The Prince's Foundation for Children & the Arts

Every child should be able to witness firsthand the magical power of the arts. Children & the Arts forms partnerships between arts venues and children at schools in areas of significant rural and economic deprivation. These children experience live theatre, music and dance, visit galleries and museums and have the chance to take part themselves. Opportunities that many of us take for granted.

Engagement with the arts can have an amazing impact on children. Showing them a world that they never knew existed will unlock hidden talents, raise aspirations, increase confidence and improve communication skills.

These are experiences that the children will remember forever. Experiences they wouldn't otherwise have had. www.childrenandarts.org.uk
